Academic Service Learning

Learn ways to enrich learning, teach civic responsibility, foster personal growth and engage your students and district by identifying community needs that can be the focus of classroom projects, exhibitions. Participants will dive into the heart and components of Academic Service Learning (ASL). This engaging learning experience focuses on the IPARDC (Investigation, Planning and Preparation, Action, Reflection, Demonstration/Celebration) components. Hands-on activities include Visible Thinking routines to provide meaningful connections to current instructional work and practice, small group work with Talk Moves to enhance and deepen dialogue, and a theme-based presentation to engage participants. Participants will be provided with resources, tools and strategies to elevate your curriculum by adding project-based service learning opportunities for students. Target Audience: K-12 all subjects

Michigan Arts Education Instruction and Assessment (MAEIA) Program

Why feel like an island when fabulous, free K-12 arts education tools and resources are at your fingertips, complete with a community of engaged arts educators! Learn all about MAEIA and how it can support you in improving and documenting student growth, authentic assessment, and teacher effectiveness. Participants will be amazed at the scope of the K-12, field-tested resources and tools in four arts disciplines (art, dance, music and theatre). This day will anchor you in your “why”, help you see where the MAEIA tools and resources can serve your needs, provide valuable information on ESSA and MCACA resources, and give you an opportunity to connect with like-minded educators. Target Audience: K-12 art, dance, music, & theatre
